

California reported the highest number of wiretaps in 2018. Although states with the largest immigrant population, such as New York, California have highest number of wiretapping application, data doesn't show consistent relationship between immigration and wiretapping

